

COOKIE POLICY

Our website, cminstitute.org (Site) use cookies to distinguish you from other users of our Site. This helps us to provide you with a good experience when you browse our Site and also allows us to improve our Site.

A cookie is a small file of letters and numbers that we store on your browser or the hard drive of your computer or mobile device. Cookies contain information that is transferred to your computer's or mobile device's hard drive.

We use Analytical or performance cookies. These allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our Site when they are using them. This helps us to improve the way our Site works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.

You can find more information about the individual cookie we use and the purposes for which we use it in the table below:

Type of Cookie	Cookie Name	Purpose	More information
Analytical or performance cookie	Third party cookies used by: Google Analytics	Google Analytics is integrated in the Site. Google analytics is a tool that uses its own cookies. This third party tool enables us to anonymously monitor the use of the Site, including how visitors came to the Site, search terms used and referral sites so that we can continue to improve your experience when using our Site.	https://developers.google.com/analytics/devguides/collection/analyticsjs/cookie-usage

Please note that the following third party may also use cookies, over which we have no control. This third party may include, for example, advertising networks and providers of external services like web traffic analysis services. These third-party cookies are likely to be analytical cookies or performance cookies or targeting cookies: Google.

You can block cookies by activating the setting on your browser that allows you to refuse the setting of all or some cookies. However, if you use your browser settings to block the cookies you may not be able to access all or parts of our Site.
